REPEATS

Once a passing grade is received (see Course Completion section for passing grades), students may receive aid for the course one more time.

STUDENTS WITH DEGREES

Students who have already completed an associates degree or higher are no longer eligible for financial aid. Students with degrees may appeal.

FINANCIAL AID STATUSES

Financial Aid Eligible Status (Ok)

You're doing great. Keep it up!

Warning Status

Students who do not meet the standards. May continue to receive aid if otherwise eligible.

Suspension Status

Students previously in Warning Status who do not meet the standards or are on Probation Status and do not meet the terms of their probation. Not eligible to receive financial aid, including loans (See Financial Aid Appeal)

Maximum Time Frame Status

Students who at any time exceed the Maximum Time Frame Status (150%) or earn a degree will no longer be eligible for financial aid, including loans. Note that students exceeding the Maximum Time Frame Status may lose financial aid eligibility without benefit of a warning term. (See Financial Aid Appeal)

Probation Status

Students who have an appeal granted are placed in Probation Status and eligible for financial aid for one semester. If after that semester the student does not meet the terms of the probation, they become ineligible for financial aid.

FINANCIAL AID APPEAL

Students who are in suspension status, exceeded the maximum time frame or earned a degree may appeal their eligibility for aid based on circumstances beyond a student's control, such as death of a relative, serious injury or lengthy illness.

Students will be notified of the SAP Appeals Committee's decision within seven days of the submission of a complete appeal. Students may have to pay tuition, fees and books out of pocket while awaiting the outcome of the appeal. The decision of the SAP Appeals Committee is final.

Students on suspension may also earn their way back to good standing by attaining a cumulative 2.0 GPA and 67% completion rate.

NOTIFICATION

We evaluate progress at the end of summer, fall and spring semesters. LLCC Financial Aid will notify you when you are in warning, suspension and/or maximum time frame and probation status. However, it's the student's responsibility to know their status and if eligible for financial aid. Students can view their SAP status on Logger Central.
